The Catifa collection has evolved into a complete seating family. With its unmistakable, innovative design, this versatile range adapts beautifully to any application and is ideal for a number of settings including domestic, corporate, hospitality and public. The Catifa 46 collection offers a wide choice of materials and colours. The Catifa shell is made from either double-curved plywood, or polypropylene. Polypropylene barstools are available in either single or two-tone colours. The shell can be upholstered in house leather, fabric or to clients own specification.
