Islands for gathering. Constellations for activity. Kiik from Arper is created for the spaces between entry and departure, between waiting and doing. Kiik is a highly configurable modular collection of seating, tables and consoles.

Kiik's core comprises of a 2, 3 or 4 upholstered seat modules either with or without a backrest. Furnished on a steel frame structure, the seating modules can then be configured in a variety of compositions. Fixed tables to the side or positioned between seats provide a convenient solution for work or storage. Complementing the range is a series of console tables, available in three heights.

Upholstery options include a selection of fabric or leather from Arper's house range. The structure is finished in a matt black powdercoat with aluminium legs offered in the choice of polished finish or powdercoated to black. Consoles and fixed side tables are finished in a natural or black Oak laminate.
